Title: Calvin in Hungary in the 21th century
Dr. Erzsébet Horváth

Introduction
In 1936 in two of the church districts a survey was done with the title ‘Calvin in the people’s mind’, and results were published. This survey put two questions which were used also in our questionnaire in 2009 but further 4 question were added by the chair of church history of our university. A sociologist helped this work in which also members of the seminar of church history participated.
My lecture will evaluate the answers. It depends thoroughly on them, but it will also dwell on the age and education level of those who have given answers.
It is expected that on account of the answers we get information about how members of our Reformed churches think about Calvin and the Reformed church, who was Calvin in their eyes, which part of Calvin they prefer and what should Calvin reform in our present.
Also the question will be evaluated, since it will give clarification about the participants of the questionnaire (which was anonymous) as to the composition of the congregations, their interest according to different ages, knowledge about Calvin, our Reformed existence and Hungarian culture.

Summary
Results of the surveys of 1936 and 2009, future tasks.
